

In Preparation for Isolation

If there is one thing of which I am certain,
It is that one day I will go into isolation.
Before I do so I must be sure
That there is nowhere that I fit
And there is no cure.

To do this I will try various occupations
And get little or no self validation.
I will meet people of different backgrounds and education
But will rarely make a connection.

Only then will I have emancipation
From my place in society and station
To execute a full retraction
My last observable action.
